

Letter of Recommendation For Jane Deuber

By MIKE RUSSELL

EMMY-WINNING TELEVISION PRODUCER

It's easy to spot the jewels in your life, right? They're the brightest diamonds. The ones with few, if any, flaws. The ones that capture your imagination from the very beginning with their clarity, radiance, sharpness, and lasting appeal.

Jane Deuber is such a treasure, a businesswoman of uncanny ability and patience who stands head and shoulders above the rest. I've known Jane for years and I can tell you that few people of either gender are as intelligent as she and still manage to achieve her level of charm and authenticity. She's focused, yet fluid. Persistent, yet giving. Savvy, yet curious and inclusive.

If you have the chance to work with this woman in any capacity, I urge you not to hesitate for even a micro-second. Jane will challenge you, but she'll inspire you, too. She knows how to communicate important concepts because she's thorough in her homework and yet softly nudging and intuitive with everyone around her. Her recommendations will make sense when others don't. Her tactics will be logical. And her outcomes will be consistent. When it's all said and done, you'll feel a sense of perfect purpose. With her, you'll simply achieve more. And those achievements, like Jane, will be singular.

Yes, in a world where fear of lack is the norm, true treasure seems exceedingly rare. But in truth, the gateway to the kind of richness you may have always sought might just be right in front of you. Take a deep breath. Have faith in your right to prosperity and peace of mind. And reach for the Hope Diamond. She comes to you in the person of Jane Deuber.
