Dear Jane,

I cannot thank you enough for coming to speak to my company. Your words and enthusiasm truly inspired my leaders to see their business in a new light and to expand their vision of what can be for their life and their business.

During your short time with us, you accomplished more than I had conceived to be possible. My top leaders were in need of a mentor who could connect with them on a deeper level, and that's exactly what you did. I am really looking forward to see how these profound changes in my leaders will affect their success and satisfaction in their business.

I highly encourage any business leader to have you speak to their company to inspire them to dream bigger for themselves, their business, and to find more happiness in all they do. Thank you so much!

Sincerely,
