Dear Jane,

You are by far one of our highest rated trainers! We really appreciated the time you took to learn about our company and its needs for the coming months. Your training was perfectly attuned to what both new consultants and long-time leaders needed to experience breakthroughs they can apply to enriching their personal and business lives.

You are a truly genuine, inspiring trainer who has the gift to help people feel empowered and motivated to take action towards reaching their own dreams. I think you do that so well because you model what it takes to go after your own dreams! Thank you for making that difference for me and the leaders of our company!

Sincerely,
